Bad Hair Day

It is the first day of school. Tippy gets ready. She wants to look nice.

She brushes her hair. She puts a shiny spray in it. She ties her hair in a pink bow.

"Now I am ready for school," Tippy says.

At school, everyone looks at Tippy. They do not smile.

Tippy sees their hair. No one else has a bow. No one else has shiny hair.

The next day, Tippy gets ready. She messes up her hair. She rubs some dirt in it. She puts a twig in her hair.

At school, everyone looks at Tippy. This time, they smile. Now Tippy looks like her friends.

Color-coded highlighting supports student comprehension. In Google Slides, students can highlight as they read!

ABOUT LEXILE LEVELS

Common Core Kingdom, LLC is a certified Lexile® Partner. These texts are officially measured and approved by Lexile and MetaMetrics® to ensure appropriate rigor and differentiation for students.

The Lexile Framework® for Reading measures are scientific, quantitative text levels. When the Lexile of a text is measured, specific, measurable attributes of the text are considered, including, but not limited to, word frequency, sentence length, and text cohesion. These are difficult attributes for humans to evaluate, so a computer measures them.

Common Core State Standards uses Lexile level bands as one measure of text complexity. Text complexity ranges ensure that students are college and career ready by the end of 12th grade. Lexile measures help educators scaffold and differentiate instruction, as well as monitor reading growth.

Grade Band	Lexile® Bands Aligned to Common Core Expectations
K-1	190L-530L
2-3	420L-820L
4-5	740L-1010L
6-8	925L- 1185L

Keep in mind when using any leveled text that many students will need scaffolding and support to reach text at the high end of their grade band. According to Appendix A of the Common Core Standards, "It is important to recognize that scaffolding often is entirely appropriate. The expectation that scaffolding will occur with particularly challenging texts is built into the Standards' grade-by-grade text complexity expectations, for example. The general movement, however, should be toward decreasing scaffolding and increasing independence both within and across the text complexity bands defined in the Standards."

Use Illustrations & Details

Good readers use the illustrations and details in a story to describe the characters, setting, and events.

Sometimes, pictures can give readers extra details the text does not say.

CHARACTERS are the people, animals or creatures in a story.
What does the illustration tell you about the CHARACTERS?
One boy is upset because his toy helicopter broke.

The setting is where and when a story takes place.
What does the illustration tell you about the SETTING?
This story takes place outside.

ents are what happens in a story.
at does the illustration tell you about the EVENTS?
boys are playing with their toy helicopters, ne broke.

Worst Day Ever

Dear Journal,

Today was the worst day ever! Grandpa gave me five dollars. He said I could spend it on ice cream.

I walked across the street. I went in my favorite ice cream shop. I knew just what to get.

I filled my cup with cold, creamy chocolate. I scooped on some toppings. The girl put my cup on the scale. It was only four dollars.

"Hang on," I said.

I went back and got more toppings. Now my ice cream was exactly five dollars. I couldn't wait to dig in!

I hurried home to eat my ice cream. Then, as I crossed the street, the worst thing happened.

I'll write about it tomorrow. Right now I'm too sad.

Your Friend,

Carlos

Basketball Star

I am a basketball star! My jersey is number ten. The fans all yell, "Go, number ten!"

I dribble. I shoot. I block. I am Ron the superstar!

Every shot I take goes in. The fans scream my name. They cheer for me.

Tweet! The ref blows the whistle. The game stops.

The ref calls my name. Oh, no! I'm out of the game. No more basketball star.

The fans are sad. But even basketball stars have to do homework.

School Bus Driver

What's that you say?

I have to take the bus today?

No thanks. I think I'd rather walk.

It doesn't matter that it's ninety blocks.

No matter what I have to do, I will not take the bus to school!

I'll have to walk uphill both there and back,

In snow piled up past my backpack.

But no matter what I have to do, I will not take the bus to school!

I'll walk the whole way alone.

I'll even carry my heavy trombone.

I don't care if that's what I have to do, I will not take the bus to school!

The driver, you see, is Mr. Ranger,

And when he's at the wheel, your life is in danger!
